IMPROPER COMMENT.

In their anxiety to prejudice public opinion in the Sheets case, two of Salt Lake's morning newspapers yesterday ions on it, which, in some courts, would have called for a reprimand, if not punishment for contempt of court.

Chief Sheets' case is before the bar now, and all the proprieties demand a cessation of such publications as might affect either the court or public opinion. Whether he is guilty or innocent of the charge against him, the evidence will be presented and it will remain with the court to determine whether, in its judgment, he should be held for trial. Meanwhile, it is in bad taste and in violation of court practice everywhere for the press to print anything that might be construed as an effort to influence the result of the hearing. Secretary Taft is quoted as saying can find no precedent in international both habits."

February 2, 1905, Mr. Foster writes again. Here it is. This is only one of the many letters we have—voluntarily sent to us:

"Please find draft for $150. Send me one dozen treatments of "TRIB." I took "TRIB" myself and never felt better in my life than I do now. I have gone down in weight to 195 pounds, and never think of using either liquor or to-bacce any more. I know of 25 cures. You can get references from most of them if you care to write.
